Working together to feed the world

World's Poultry Science Association

The enormous growth in poultry meat production would not have been possible without worldwide efforts of specialists in this field. This has taken the form of research programmes at universities, institutes and commercial companies as well as in applied research within the branches of the poultry production processing and supply industry. For all these experts who work worldwide for the world's most important and fast-increasing food source there is an important umbrella

Objectives of WPSA

- * Gather knowledge on all aspects of poultry science and the poultry industry and to bring this knowledge to the poultry industry, poultry scientists and other people with interests in poultry.
- * Bring together worldwide those concerned with all aspects of poultry science, poultry production and the many diverse ancillary enterprises that are associated with the industry.
- * Dedicate itself to the spread of knowledge so that education and training are
